Fifty dollars expended now in protecting what is left of the foundation will save the church, but if left alone a little longer, this grand old edifice will be a ruin. Tucsonites don't seem to appreciate the value of this mission, but when it is too late they will regret they have not advocated its repair, and urged that some of the dollars received for admission; be spent in repairing the foundation of the front wall. The charge for admission is fifty cents, which is exorbitant, and it does seem that such a paying institution i deserves protection.

Tucson, as a commercial city, certainrival in southern Arizona, and its trade extends to every town, camp and ranch. The merchants there carry the largest stock of goods in the southwest, and having advantages in freight rates, are able to sell at lower prices than those at other points. This fact is understood by outside merchants and Tucson has become a large jobbing center. Its bus. ness men are solid and what they are short in flash and bluster is more than made good by the balance to their bank account being on the credit side.

A great many people are now temporarily in Tucson for their health, coming from the eastern states to enjoy the plendid winter climate of Arizona. Tuc son would have more of these healthseekers and others who prefer to spend their winters in a mild climate, if it had nore botel facilities, and if the sanita: ium hotel is ever completed on Military plaza, as planned, it will no donot be full of guests for at least five months in the year. Tuoson has every advantage in the way of schools for people who might desire to bring their families there during the winter months. The public school is as good as any to be found east or west; besides here is located the territorial university, just aponed and with every facility for teaching the higher branches of education.

Tucson is growing and new evidences of a progressive and enterprising spirit are to be encountered there almost daily.-Bulletin.
